NEW YORK, Oct 5.—At Bayonne, N J., this morning an explosion of nitro glycerine occurred on the Central Railroad where some laborers had been at work track building. The nitro glycerine was applied for an experimental blast, the quarryman using it behind some boulders, and after the blast Patriek M Glynn, who was not more than forty feet distant, was struck and his right arm torn off by a piece of rock. Another laborer was struck in the head and is in a dying condition. Another lifted into the air was seriously injured. A residence two hundred feet distant had the roof crushed through by boulders of a thousand pounds.

The race was considered remarkably good as the colt came in under a strong pull in both heats and in the first was pulled up for the last half mile. He came in on the second heat on a gallop. The fourth race for beaten horses, mile heats was won by Quarter Master, in two straight heats, time 1.46½ and 1.45. The second heat was the fastest ever run on the Nashville course.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Official Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The following revenue officials have been appointed: Storekeeper Edward Lippincott, Montana; Gauger, Steven Wing, 3d District, California.

A Work on Finance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—In a work on finance now in preparation by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Richardson, he says, after quoting the law of February, 1868, for the reduction of currency, at this time the amount outstanding is three hundred and fifty six millions. That is the limit below which the circulation of the United States notes cannot be reduced without Congressional enactment, and the amount out has fluctuated between that amount and four hundred millions as authorized by law. The issue of a reserve of forty-five million is left to the discretion of the Secretary, who has never since availed himself of it to any extent whatever, except on two occasions. During September, 1869, about a million and a half of three per cent bonds demanding certificates came in suddenly for redemption and were paid out of this reserve, but the amount so withdrawn within two weeks was again restored thereto.

UTAH.

From Salt Lake City.

SALT LAKE, October 6.—The Territorial Fair closed a three days' session yesterday. There was a full attendance and a creditable display of agricultural and domestic products and blooded stock. A forty-second Semi annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints commenced to-day. The Tabernacle was crowded with members of the Church from all parts of the Territory. President Smith and Apostle Hyde delivered sermons to-day. Nothing new nor striking. The Conference continues until Friday.

Congratulatory Order of Gen. Crook.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—The following is Gen. Crook's congratulatory order published in the Mines of September 28th:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT ARIZONA, PRESCOTT, Sept. 27.—General Orders No. 32. It is with great pleasure that announcement is made of the complete success of the expedition under command of Captain Mason of the 5th cavalry, against the Apaches and Mojaves, who had concentrated along Santa Maria river. The command consisted of companies C, Capt. Emil Adams; B, Capt. R. A. Montgomery, and K, Capt. J. W. Mason of the 5th cavalry, and a detachment of Hualapai Indians. They surprised the camp at daylight on the 20th inst., capturing several ranncheron, with a large number of women and children, and killed forty warriors, without loss on our part. This brilliant success was owing in a great measure to the energy displayed by the command in climbing on foot over almost impassable canyons, and the efficient aid of Hualapia allies. Captain Mason and officers and men under his command are hereby complimented and thanked for their brilliant success, and our Indian allies are assured that their efforts to aid us in bringing about a permanent peace to a much suffering people will not be forgotten. By command of Brevet Major General Crook.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Blackburn and Rider, who were thrown from a buggy last night while returning from the races, are dangerously hurt inwardly, but have chances for recovery.

The German-American reform organization barbacue at the City Gardens, was a great success.

The steamer Idaho, from Honolulu, arrived this evening. She brings 29 passengers from Auckland, New Zealand, September the 7th, and 31 from Honolulu, September 25th, also a mixed cargo of freight from Honolulu.

The morning papers prematurely stated that arrangements were completed last night for the first race between Occident and Goldsmith Maid, to come off at Sacramento on Saturday. The President of the Bay Agricultural Society is authority for stating that up to the close of this dispatch such arrangements had not been made. Much interest is manifested in relation to the coming races.

The city is extremely quiet.

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 6.—To-day at a funeral, a Mr Bigler, resident of Georgetown, fainted and fell headlong into the grave. He was carried home insensible, and died in a few moments. The deceased leaves a wife and large family.

OREGON.

The Eugene City mill team ran away last week and smashed a wagon to "smithereens."

The grand jury system costs the county of Yamhill about $1,000 per annum and the Courier wants it abolished.

The Mountaineer thinks the fire at the Dalles last week was the work of an incendiary, and estimates the loss at five hundred dollars.

The Southern Methodists had a meeting in Tillamook the latter part of September, which resulted in twenty-nine accessions to the church.

The amount of the assessment of 1872 for Wasco county is $1,235,122 00. This is an increase of $70,050 00 over and above the assessment of last year.

The Beaver Hosiery Company, of Jefferson, received a special premium of a gold medal at the State Fair for the best display of goods in their line.

The Courier tells of a man who came to Yamhill county 14 years ago and followed the profession of a beggar, but who now holds mortgages on the farms of several of his former benefactors.

Wm. Owens, ex Sheriff of Jackson county, was thrown from his horse a week ago last Saturday and had his collar-bone and three ribs broken, and his head badly bruised. So says the Sentinel.

The amount of assessable property in Jackson county, as returned by the County Assessor and corrected by the Board of Equalization, is $1,699,807, a large increase on last year. The tax levied this year is 10½ mills on the dollar.

Three brothers named Obenchain, living in Jackson county, got into a fight with a grizzly bear last week. Bruin came near getting away with one of them, but the other two got away with the bear which weighed 1200 pounds.

Wasco county will this year pay tax as follows: Seventeen and a half mills for county purposes; 5½ mills for State purposes; and 2 mills for school tax on each and every dollar of property both real and personal as returned by the assessor.

One McMorrow was arrested in Yamhill county the other day by ex-Sheriff Gates, charged with having given Indian Dave whisky about a year since. He was taken below. The Indian is now in jail at Salem waiting trial for a second murder.

Oasis Lodge, No. 31, I. O. O. F., was instituted at Junction City last Monday evening, by Grand Master J. T. Apperson, with the following officers: Geo. Cunningham, N. G.; W. S. Lee, V. G.; J. S. Fulton, R. S.; S. N. Howard, Treasurer; F. Gilbert, P. S.

THE TERRITORIES.

Helena, Montana, has a splendid new hand fire engine.

The Salt Lake Tribune intimates that Brigham Young has gone back on Horace and says his Greeley hat is for sale.

Samuel Douglas, a Montana youth, passed a candidatable examination and has been admitted to the Military Academy at West Point.

The Vancouver Register will not be issued this week. The editor and printers will devote their time to the Clarke County Fair, which is to begin to-morrow.

Nathan Clark, of Fort Shaw, W. T., was stabbed to the heart and instantly killed by a half-breed named James Swan, on the 16th of September. Cause—a part Indian woman.

Dr. N. Rounds, Superintendent of Common Schools in Washington Territory, will hold a Territorial Institute at Vancouver on the 23d inst., and at Walla Walla some time in November.

The body of G. L. Montgomery of Lansing, Michigan, was found in Hellgate river, Montana, on the 23d inst. He had been in the Territory about a year, and it is supposed that he committed suicide.

The western end of the eastern end of the North Pacific Railroad track was at Jamestown, Dakota Territory, and the occasion was duly celebrated. Besides the usual speeches, toasts, etc., on the occasion, a general row occurred between the Company's employes, out of which several came with bloody noses and broken heads.

On the 22d ult. a courier arrived at Bozeman, Montana, and reported that from sixty to one hundred Indians came in from Boulder Pass, southeast of the Agency, about 4 P. M. On the way they met Dr. Frost, two Crow squaws and one small child, all of whom they at once killed. The Indians then came on to the Agency and ran off all the horses. The Indians went off the same way they came, remaining all the time on the south side of the Yellowstone. The courier saw a light for an instant as he came along, about a mile above the mouth of Twenty-five Yard creek, on the south side of the Yellowstone, which he thought might come from a part of the raiders. The courier has no doubt they were Sioux, as they went into the herd paying no attention to cattle, and only taking horses and mules.

Why It is so.

No Republican expected but that Georgia would give the Greeleyites a large majority, and with the condition of affairs in that State as described in the following dispatch to the New York Times of Sept. 26th that it should give such a majority is no wonder. The dispatch is dated at Atlanta on the 25th and says: "Information of a trustworthy character comes from Wilkinson county to this city which shows that the Ku-klux organization still exists in Georgia, and that its members have renewed their campaign of blood and outrage. On the night of the 16th inst. a band of the disguised men went to the house of Freeman Jones, a respectable colored man, in search of parties who had a few days previously participated in the organization of a Grant and Wilson Republican Club at Gordon, in Wilkinson county. Jones and another colored named Morris succeeded in making their escape, but the outlaws succeeded in capturing Charlton, a prominent colored Republican who had taken a part in the meeting. They whipped Charlton most unmercifully, inflicting upon him serious, if not fatal injuries. The women and children were insulted and abused, but they escaped uninjured. This is the same county in which the Ku-klux committed so many revolting outrages two years ago, when they murdered the persons of Henry Lowther and William Brigans, two colored men who had voted the Republican ticket, and participated actively in the election. It was here that Sheriff Deats was murdered, and his body thrown into the millpond, and Albert Stanley met a similar fate. Recent letters and other trustworthy sources of information from Wilkinson and adjoining counties, induce the belief here that perhaps less than one-third of the colored vote will be polled in that section of the State. Similar reports come in from other sections in Southern and Middle Georgia.

The New York Sun nominates Mr. A. T. Stewart for Mayor of New York, and proceeds to eulogize him. This is the worst blow that Mr. Stewart's reputation has ever received.

THE STATE FAIR.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Oct. 5, 1872.

The Fair of 1872 was smitten with old age, and the best doctors said he must die. He had spent nearly all his money and exhausted his good cheer, and though in his vigor he had been a generous soul, in his decline but few friends could be found, and the great crowd who had enjoyed his hospitality made haste to escape from his roof yesterday. A good many even started home on Friday evening, and to one going from Salem to the grounds this morning it seemed as though every one must be coming away. But still a good many were left. Those who had premiums to settle, those who were interested in the races for this morning, those who were engaged in different businesses, the few visitors who had not yet enough, and the many roughs, sports and hoodlums who never do have enough, altogether made up a pretty good population as far as number is concerned.

The programme only included settlements at the track and a trotting match, and as the trotting this year has been a farce, little remained to be done by a reporter but to pick up odd scraps of information in the different departments of the Fair.

PICKING UP SCRAPS

seemed to be the order of the day. The crowd in the Pavilion were bent on tasting the premium fruits, and they did so until not a scrap was left of all the apples, pears, peaches, plums, grapes or any edible thing that grows in the country. Outside each one was trying to close out his business, the prize candy boys grew earnest in their offers of three, four and "five packages for a half;" cigar peddlers implored the bystanders to purchase "seven Havana cigars for a quarter;" hackmen besought all sides for "one more passenger to Salem;" the big shows having gone the rounds each claimed to be the best on the ground, and their cries tearfully offered "the last chance for 25 cents;" while the swing man pensively remarked that he had "a few more vacant seats;" while on all sides could be heard heartrending appeals to buy this or that and let the man go home, but I noticed after finding a victim there vendors always had "one more" lot on hand.

The best contested crowd I saw was one making a rate on Henry Ankeny's premium cheese. Mr. A. had a fine lot of this article on exhibition and took all the premiums, both for fresh and old cheese, and the crowd decided that the committee was right in the award.

AN HISTORICAL CHART,

Which hung in the Pavilion, did not attract half the attention it was entitled to, nor half what it would had people understood it rightly. It is the invention of Mr. S. C. Adams of this place, is about twenty feet in length by thirty inches in breadth, rather roughly drawn but exhibiting in regular order every prominent fact in the recorded history of the world. Commencing with the Bible history, different races and nations are indicated by colored lines which divide or unite, extend and diminish, to represent the growth, progress or decay of each. By this means a better idea of the sequence of history can be obtained than in any other manner, and the whole chart is so filled up and interspersed with dates and facts as to be a marvel of information. Mr. Adams hopes to have it lithographed and published by subscription; and, I think, is sure of the success he deserves.

AN AQUARIUM,

The work of Dr. Chase of Salem, was another interesting object in the Pavilion. This was small but served to show what may be done. A glass case probably thirty-six inches in length and twenty-four in width and depth, is filled with clear water, in which are growing about the shells, coral, etc., in the bottom, numerous water plants; while gold fish, trout, chubs and other small fish sport as happy as in their native streams. The trout are already so tame as to come to the hand to be fed.

GOLD MEDAL.

A special committee was appointed to examine the goods exhibited by the Beaver Hosiery Manufacturing Company, who reported that they found the goods "worthy of notice and encouragement by the Society," and accordingly recommended the following resolution, which was adopted, That a gold medal be awarded the Beaver Hosiery Manufacturing Company, of Jefferson, for the best exhibit of manufactured goods in their line."

RACING

To day was a total failure. The first was a trot for a special premium for two-year-olds. C. A. Wallace of Yamhill entered Bin Holladay; Robt. Henderson entered Dexter and Sinister. Ben Holladay won the money in 4:03, although a bystander offered to walk around in that time.

After that we expected to see a good trot for the $75 purse, for horses that had not beaten 2:52, mile heats, three in five. F. A. Fletcher entered Flying Cloud, and W. J. Tennant entered Quimby's American Boy. A good deal of money was staked, pools starting at two to one on the American Boy, but as the arrangement began to leak out, betters got shy, until at last three to one was given on the Cloud. The Boy took the first in 3:08 and the second in 3:07, but betting did not improve, and finally twenty to one was bet that Flying Cloud would win, which he did in the next three heats in 3:06, 3:08 and 3:05, respectively, while both horses have gone in 2:58 at this same meeting. This whole thing was so barefaced that it is sure to result in a bad effect in future races by the Society.

SCRUB RACING.

This closed the work of the Society, and all sorts of nags (?) were gotten up for the benefit of any who could raise the fee(s) of half a dollar. One colored man who had all his money bet on a horse was sixth to lose but the other horse flew the track and could not be got back in time to win at all, so the beer was bitten. Another race terminated in a fight in which a big half-breed used up Sixtoed Pete, who, I understand, is from Portland; and the Pandemonium which was inaugurated showed plainly how much better such things can be done by the Society than by the horsemen themselves.

By 5 o'clock the grounds were deserted and bare walls and shadows were all that was left of the splendor and glory of the best agricultural and stock raisers' exhib

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING OCTOBER 7 1872

Some More Figures

The B of yesterday is devoted exclusively to Mr Simpson's Locks bill It rants through four columns in an endeavor to shew that the proposition of Mr Simpson is a swindle and that the Oregonian is an advocate of that swindle That the State ought to pay 500 000 or even 400 000 per annum rental for the Canal and Locks we have denied and do not propose to assert for the all sufficient reason that the proposition involves the consideration of questions of fact in relation to the cost of the works and their quality upon which we do not profess to be in possession of the requisite information and it is evident from the Bulletin's manner of treating the subject that the editor of that paper is in exactly the same situation so far as want of knowledge is concerned The Oregonian has never advocated the passage of Mr Simpson's bill A committee has been appointed to examine the works, and will report to the House such facts as have a bearing upon the questions involved after which the members will be able to arrive at such a conclusion as all the circumstances of the case seem to justify They can probably do this as well without as with the assistance of the Bulletin, or any other person who is ignorant of some of the most important facts in the premises For this reason we have not deemed it proper to obtrude our opinion upon the members of the Legislature

The general proposition that the State of Oregon ought to secure and keep the control of the Canal and Locks at the Falls as other States have done in similar cases every rational person who has given the subject a moment's thought knows to be correct This does not assume that Simpson's proposition is the only way or the best way to accomplish this end It might be better to buy the works outright But in some way the State should control that channel of navigation So long as a private corporation or individual holds the key to this gate of the Wallamet Valley, the entire carrying business of the country can be kept in the hands of a single company The great evils to result from this State of affairs are patent

It is not necessary to suppose a case for the purpose of illustration Take the case as it actually exists at the present time The transportation on the river and by rail, are in the same hands Freights are enormously high, and the industries of the country are languishing because it is impossible to market produce except at such expense for carrying as takes away all profit from the producer. Open the Wallamet river to all alike with no obstruction at the Falls and the freights on the railway must be reduced to rates that will allow the farmer some margin upon his produce, or else the river will bear away the freight at such reduced rates Thus the industries of the country will be stimulated, and the people will be benefited to the same extent, whether their produce reach the market by rail or by boat Cheap freight will be the result, and that is the sole object to be attained It is of no consequence to the country whether the carrying is done by railway or by water, so it be done cheaply That is the point, and when that is lost or won, all is lost or won

We now propose to "figure a little more for the edification of the Bulletin, and in order to make sure of having our figures based upon facts which the Bulletin will not dispute, we shall call that paper itself upon the witness stand, only premising that the Bulletin's statements of a few weeks ago, are so widely different from those of the last two or three days, as to suggest that there may be something more than a mistake in its present course The Bulletin of August 1, 1872 gives the export of wheat from this during last year, at 1,077,957 centals —which is equal to 53,897 17 20 tons —and estimates the surplus of 1872 at 75,000 tons This ratio of increase seems large, but it is not overstated, if the increase of 1871 over 1870, is a fair criterion by which to judge The wheat product of 1870, as stated in the Bulletin of August 23, 1872, was 1 991,869 bushels, and that of 1871 was 3,036,333 bushels These are the Bulletin's own figures, if they are exaggerations the Bulletin will probably tell us so, and it may favor us with a statement of the reasons which induced that paper to make exaggerated statements, if, on the other hand they are not exaggerations, an explanation of the motives that prompt the Bulletin to its present course will be in order

Bearing in mind that this estimate of 75 000 tons of down freight is for a single article wheat, and adding to it the shipments of wool, bacon, hides, fruit, oats etc etc our readers may see whether we over estimated the matter when we put the aggregate amount of down freights at 80,000 tons per annum If we had said 100 000 tons we should have been nearer the truth Add to this the amount of imports shipped from San Francisco and Portland, up the valley and then augment that result by the passenger traffic and you will have something like an idea of the total carrying business to be effected by the State's getting control of the navigation of the Wallamet river The reduction would take place upon every ton of this freight, whether it were carried by rail or boat for shippers would naturally seek the cheapest means of transportation

It will not do for the Bulletin to parade figures to show that at present but a small amount of freight passes up and down the river by boats The navigation of the river is managed by the same person who manages the railways, and it is notoriously true that such discrimination has been exercised in favor of the railway as to render the more face of the railway having taken the bulk of the freight wholly unreliable as a basis upon which to calculate the future trade of the river The necessities of the case have demanded that the traffic by the railway should be swollen to its utmost possibilities. The owner of the road had the bonds of his company upon foreign markets and their negotiability naturally depended upon the question whether the road was a paying enterprise It has been generally understood that no effort was spared to make the road show as large returns as possible and that to this end every legitimate means within the reach of the manager of the road was pressed into service

We are not criticising the management of the road It is private property and so are the boats upon the river They or all control by the same parties and it is their right to do with them as they see proper We are only stating the facts

The truth is but too apparent that the Bulletin is discussing this question in the private interest of the owner of that paper and from this standpoint of that gentleman's financial schemes alone The profits of the present excessive tariff on freight which are now received by him would be retained by the people of the State in case the river is thrown open to the whole community on equal terms and it would be more than ought to be expected of poor human nature for him to stand still and see all while such a magnificent advantage slips from his hands We have no complaints to make against him for opposing any measure that will tend to make the people of the State masters of their own commerce but we said it we simply state the facts

As Usual

The Bulletin of yesterday has the following

On referring back to the files of the Bulletin we find a copy of the mortgage executed by the Lock Company last April to one Mr S Goldsmith of San Francisco for the sum of $200 000 and we find the name of W Lair Hill Esq to that mortgage as one of the Attorneys of the Lock Company Mr Hill is also editor of the Oregonian

We do not know whether the Bulletin's back files contain this falsehood or whether it first appeared in yesterday's issue We should not be surprised however to find it in both as the same untruths are usually published over and over again in that paper W Lair Hill never signed his name to a mortgage or any other paper as the attorney of the Lock Company and never was the attorney of that Company, and never did any business of any kind for the Company and never received a cent from that Company, or from any member of it as an attorney or otherwise The Bulletin will now produce the proof to sustain its statement or admit it to be false

We are in receipt of a communication from A A McCully Esq in which he puts the amount of freight passed through the hands of the I F Company in year at 11 831 tons Another gentleman is prominently connected with the Company writes that it was 60,000 tons According to Mr McCully's letter the up freights are nearly one fourth the amount of the down freights Assuming the Bulletin's figures on wheat for this year—75 000 tons—to be correct and allowing only 15 000 tons for all other down freight together—thus making 90 000 tons of down freight—the up freight would be in the neighborhood of 22 000 tons This would bring the entire year's freight to 112,000 tons We trust the disagreement of these doctors will produce such investigation as shall place our legislators in possession of the facts as they really exist The amount of money proposed to be paid by Mr Simpson's bill as reported by the Committee, is $40 000 per year for five years less $4,000 per annum to be reserved for the School Fund This, diminished by the further sum of $4 500 provided by the bill to be paid by the Company for the salaries of Commissioners collector and assistants, will leave the net receipts of the Company $31 500 The bill contains no provision to insure the State against loss from destruction of the works by freshets

To morrow the States of Indiana Iowa Nebraska Ohio and Pennsylvania will hold elections for State officers and Congressmen and the Territory of Dakota will elect a Delegate to Congress We confidently predict that the result of these elections will be such as to make the Presidential race a mere walk over the track by General Grant If the Republicans carry Pennsylvania, as at present it appears almost certain they will, the Greeley Democracy will be as destitute of hope in the final struggle as the straight Democracy has been all the time A hard struggle is making by the Greeleyites of Indiana but the great center of attraction to which all eyes are turned is Pennsylvania The Republicans claim the State by 10,000 majority, while the Greeleyites insist that the State is Greeleyized, but, so far as we have seen, do not state their figures

Letter from a River Farmer

DAYTON, October 5, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Mr Simpson's bill, proposing to authorize the State to acquire possession of the canal and locks at Portland City, is attracting considerable attention among my neighbors along the river At first we regarded it in the light of a continuation of the legislation of two years ago, and being an attempt to put money in the pockets of the Lock Company at the expense of the tax payers but a little reflection proves that it is rather a remedy for what we Republicans regarded as the infamous acts of that Legislature Those who oppose this bill argue that because only some 25,000 tons of freight were carried on the river last year there for the amount proposed to be paid annually by the State will be exceed the receipts from tolls but it should be remembered that the obstructions once removed, once free, navigation opened to all boats will increase the amount of products more than ten fold I am informed that your city consumes annually some twenty thousand cords of wood That hardwood sells from boats at your wharves at $5 per cord Now consider the thousands of acres of ash and maple lying along the river above the falls not one stick of which can get to your market, and you can comprehend at once what a revenue would be derived from this one article both to the State for tolls, and to the people along the river This is but one of the many articles of commerce heretofore prohibited that will be transported Hay straw, lumber staves and a thousand things will be manufactured and produced and the river traffic will so increase as to make the canal a source of profit at the present rate, and admit, after the first year of a reduction of the rate fixed by law It may be argued that the same advantages will accrue with the canal in the hands of the company, but this argument will not do Nothing in the future is more certain than that if the State fails to secure control of those works, that eventually both sides of the river will be combined and controlled by one man or one company after which by the terms of the law 20 years must elapse before the State can acquire possession of what it should never have parted with The very bitter opposition of the Bulletin to this measure is evidence conclusive to my mind of its object Once put that canal in the hands of the State and beyond the possibility of individual control, and you establish a competition with the railroads that will save in freight ten times as much to the farmers and merchants of this valley as the additional taxes by their own figures, which I have already shown to be totally unreliable

These Mr Editor are but a few of the arguments that present themselves to my mind but I have not time to pursue the subject I think the advantages will reach much further than this It will affect our trade with San Francisco, for I am informed that the present line of steamers refuse to carry freight only from their own warehouse but of this I leave those better posted than myself to speak I can only add that I hope our Representatives will consider this matter well and not action the penny wise and pound foolish system, and for fear of benefiting the present owners of those works a little do a lasting injury to the state RIVER FARMER

WASHINGTON COUNTY LETTER.

HILLSBORO Oct 6 1872

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Oswego Canal has been finished at last and a general feeling of relief is experienced throughout Washington county The large warehouse at the Hillsboro landing is also ready for the storing of grain The company is deserving of the praise which the farming community bestow upon them They have at all times and under all circumstances labored to promote the interests of the producers and have at great expense of time and money finally succeeded in opening a cheap and reliable communication for the benefit of the farmers of Washington county. Thus has been achieved at last a grand and important enterprise though obstacles and disappointments seemed to accumulate on every hand and amid the storm of opposition and the infidelity of the unsea success crowns their efforts The company are deserving of the praise which certainly will be bestowed upon them With the commencement of the week will witness the transferring of grain from all parts of the country to points along the river for shipment Up to the present time the old mode of shipment the wagon has been universally resorted to by those desiring the present market rates But many have held back, spending their time on the farm putting in the fall low and in making the general necessary preparatory to the full plowing

The company will still push on their enterprises Every available tributary of the river will be made a means of transportation and it will bear upon it the vast wealth of one of the richest agricultural counties according to size in the State Every enterprise gives a new impetus to the general development of all the resources in our beautiful county And all need encouraging and fostering to the end that every foot of land in our borders, may be made to contribute its mite to the wealth and opulence of a contented and happy people The promises of the company that they would stand by the farmers is now being fully realized, and a means of cheaper transportation is being placed at their disposal than any yet offered, and should in every instance be accepted and made use of Everything is now ready for storing and shipping Let past, growing be forgotten in the full enjoyment of present privileges By another season facilities will still extend nearer the doors of every neighborhood

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7, 1872.

To the Penitentiary.—Most of our readers have not forgotten a certain gentleman who resided in Portland at one time, under the dubious title of Dr. Horton. Horton carried on several businesses here, principal among which were playing the role of doctor, of the Electrician school, running a galvanic battery at the corner of streets, and carrying on the trades of watchmaker and engraver. The police of the city at length, for certain reasons, began to suspect that he was a counterfeiter, or was a sort of disbursing agent for a firm at San Francisco. The matter was traced around for some time, but for want of any positive evidence, Horton and several of his accomplices, were allowed to get away. About one year ago, Horton left this city and went to Idaho Territory, plying his various avocations, and finally went to Salt Lake. He engaged at the City of the Saints in manufacturing burglar tools, in company with several others. We learn from parties who came directly from Salt Lake, that several months ago, Horton and his confreres concluded to "tap" a large safe, "not their own," containing eight or ten thousand dollars. They got away with the coin, but the authorities captured both the burglars and the coin. As a consequence, the doctor and his assistants are now making brick for "Old Brig."

Tool Thief.—An exciting chase after a thief took place last Saturday evening down Front street. It seems that a fellow sold a lot of tools to a mechanic on Front street named Drake early Saturday morning. He received the money for the tools and left. Saturday evening about 8 o'clock the fellow thought he would slip to the shop and steal the tools back again, and by that means make the price of them. The front door of the shop was unlocked and the room was dark. Drake and family lived in the rear part of the shop, and were at the evening meal at the time. The thief took a leather apron and was cautiously piling the tools on it when a hammer fell on the floor and made a great racket. Mr. and Mrs. Drake hearing the noise sprang up and ran into the shop. The thief grabbed the tools and darted out at the door followed by Drake and his wife. Officer Shannon at the time was standing about a block distant. He heard the noise and saw the man running away, and immediately gave chase. The cry of "stop thief" was started, and people came running from all directions, and a laughable and lively chase was witnessed. Drake, however, proved to be the fleetest on foot and overhauled the tool thief, and had the satisfaction of seeing the fellow lodged in jail, besides recovering all his tools.

Ember Days.—In speaking of these days the Oregon Churchman says: "In his annual address the Bishop of Oregon brought the matter before the Convocation of his jurisdiction. The committee on the state of the church warmly seconded the suggestion of the Bishop, and by resolution of the Convocation Bishop Morris was requested to designate a time and place and provide for the proper service during Ember Week. Trinity Church was the place appointed, and on the evening of Friday, in Ember Week, five clergymen and the Bishop were present in the chancel and took part in the services; after which the Bishop preached a thoughtful and most practical sermon on the duty of all to labor for an increase of the ministerial force. On Saturday morning the Bishop and his clergy again assembled for morning prayer, after which the Holy Communion was celebrated, about 35 persons besides the clergy partaking. The offerings of the society for the increase of the ministry amounted to over $35 in gold."

Per Olympia.—The steamer Olympia, which sailed for San Francisco Saturday morning, took away the following passengers: A W Percival and daughter, J W Linhart and wife, Daniel Coughlan, John Connell, Rufus Leighton, W Soule, O F Loomis and wife, Otto Truer, Mrs R P Hoxie, J O Green and wife, Miss Sarah Green, B Reeves, Captain Gilman, G E Fernham, Dr McLean, Henry Williams, T Dawson, J McCormick, W Spartan and wife, L Layton and two children, J Dennis, Miss E Horton, P Andre, A W Carter, 25 in the steerage and 43 Chinamen.

Returned.—The Oregon Churchman says: "Dr. McCarty arrived here by the last steamer, and, as we are glad to hear, proposes to make his home among us. He will reside, for the present, at Vancouver. Dr. McCarty was a chaplain and missionary here for many years, and his faithful and self-denying labors are still well remembered. We join with his old friends and acquaintances in giving him a hearty welcome, with the hope that he may have health and strength yet for some good service to the cause he loves so well."

Crushed.—A man named Eaton, a brakesman on the west side road, met with a very severe accident last Saturday at Cornelius. As the train was switching off at that place about 12 o'clock, he attempted to jump aboard the engine, and in stepping upon the cow-catcher he missed his footing, and the front truck of the engine run over his feet at the instep, crushing it badly. Eaton was brought to this city and is now at the railroad hospital. Amputation will probably be necessary.

Railroad Party.—The Northern Pacific Railroad party arrived at Kalama yesterday, from their tour through the Sound country. The steamer Emma Hayward went down to Kalama yesterday, and will convey the party to-day to the Cascades, from which point they will proceed to the Dalles, and probably farther up the Columbia. The party will return in the course of a few days to this city.

Paintings Sold.—Two fine oil paintings which were on exhibition at the State Fair, and both painted by artists of this city, were disposed of at a round price. One of the paintings, representing a view of the Cascades and foot bridge, by J. H. Garrigan, was sold for $300. The other, a Cowlitz painting, by Mr. Coughlin, representing Mount Hood from the Wallamet, was sold for $250.

Entirely Demolished.—The frame of the old sawmill at the foot of G and Front streets, has been demolished, and no lingering traces remain but the stone foundation on which rested the engine, and the piles supporting the building. The machinery has all been removed to the new sawmill, and but little can be seen on the old site, to indicate what kind of a building once occupied it.

Team Up.—The switch that once extended from the main track along Fourth street to the foot of F street, on which were run the gravel trains to fill up that portion of Couch's Lake, between First and Second streets, has been torn up. As the street has been filled up to the established grade there was no further use for the track.

Rescued.—The light-house tender Shubrick, which arrived at Astoria on Saturday, reported a large vessel standing to the northward of Shoalwater Bay apparently bound in. From the appearance of the vessel she is supposed to be the ship Zouave now some days overdue from New York.

At St. Helens.—The barks Electra and Nautilus are both lying at St. Helens awaiting the completion of their respective cargoes. They will proceed to sea when all the freight has been received. The bark Manila is now at Astoria, and will cross the bar at the first favorable opportunity.

Fog.—Vessels report that the fog and smoke combined render it very difficult to see any distance off the bar. The California on her last trip was delayed some time, and compelled to proceed slow and with caution in consequence of the clouds of smoke and fog banks.

Improving the Time.—Yesterday was a most lovely day—free from the oppressive heat of summer, and neither stormy nor cold. Our people were not insensible to the charms of the day, and were improving it to the best possible advantage by sailing and driving.

Water Pipes.—Five hundred and fifty pipes were brought from Olympia on the steamer California. These pipes are made of wood—bored logs—and are, we learn, to be laid in East Portland for the use of the water company of that place.

Seen Off.—As the steamer California was passing over the bar, a vessel was observed standing off—so far away that her name could not be ascertained. It is most probably the Almatia, as that vessel is now over due from San Francisco.

For Assault.—A man named Smith was tried before Justice Ryan last Saturday, charged with having assaulted another person in a dancing cellar. Owing to the conflicting testimony in the case the defendant was discharged.

Local Brevities.

No new vessels now in port.

No smoke to disturb the vision.

The maple are shedding their foliage.

Pay up your license and avoid trouble.

Thread lace is much used as a bonnet trimming.

Chilly nights and bracing days of autumn have come again.

The Victoria steamer brought 450 barrels of lime to this port.

The California brought on the last trip 30 tons of oil and 10 tons of hops.

The steamer Annie Stewart is being thoroughly renovated and will take the line within a month.

The ladies are now wearing bright silk handkerchiefs folded over their shoulders. It is a very pretty fashion.

The Clackamas Mills are now sending to this market the first lot of straw paper made at these mills for several months.

Tea-carts, with one powerful horse, have supplanted dog-carts and tandems among the amateur Johns of good society.

A young idiot of the fashionable female persuasion attracts attention by the affability with which she wears nine diamond rings on one finger.

Quite a number of the members of the Legislature were in the city yesterday. Some of them return to the Capitol this morning, others remaining until to-morrow.

A firm in this city have musical boxes, decanters and chairs, all of which will play the "La Rose of Summer," or "Yankee Doodle," every time they are disturbed.

The fashionable street feminine costume consists of solemn black, the only relief a Russian leather belt with a toache. The Russian leather has about reached its crisis.

It may not be generally known that snake poison is useful for medicinal purposes in these days, and that, under the name of "Crotalus Horridus," the poison of the rattlesnake is utilized in homeopathic pharmacy.

As last evening's train on the east side drew up at a station a gentleman got out and inhaling the fresh air, remarked to a bystander, "Isn't this invigorating?" "No, Sir; it is Canby," said the railroad man. The gentleman retired.

Ex-Governor Salomon gave a lecture before a large audience of Germans, at Turn Verein Hall, San Francisco, on Sunday night last. After the conclusion of the lecture he paid a visit to the Saengergesellschafe Germania. Song and music by that society kept him for many hours with his countrymen.

Board of Delegates.—The Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department held a regular meeting at the Court Rooms last Saturday evening.

Present—W. H. Andrus, W. H. Weed, A. B. Hallock, A. C. Ripley, J. A. Thomas, S. C. Mills, R. Holman, W. H. Wetzell, C. H. Marvin, W. Moffett; C. S. Stewart, F. M. Arnold and President J. H. Lyon.

Proceedings of the last meeting read and approved.

Communications from Secretaries of Nos. 1, 2 and 3, asking for certificates of membership for elected members of their several companies. On motion, granted.

Communications from Secretary of No. 2, reporting resignations and expulsions; read and register directed to be corrected accordingly.

Communication from Secretary of Hook and Ladder Company, asking for exempt certificate for James Halpin; referred to Committee on Certificates.

Secretary of the Department reported receipts for September, amounting to $12; filed.

Special Committee on Certificates granted further time to report.

Committee on Certificates reported adverse to granting exempt certificate to W. H. D. Joyce; adopted.

Communication from the Deputy Secretary, asking permission to issue a certificate of membership to C. S. Mills, Jr., in place of one lost; granted.

Resolved that all applications for certificates shall be accompanied by the fee required by the regulations; adopted.

Mr. Arnold introduced the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, It has been the custom of the Fire Department, for the past ten years, to elect the Chief Engineer two successive terms, and Mr. A. A. Williams, the present incumbent, having been nominated for re election, therefore,

Be it resolved, By the Board of Delegates, that, reposing full confidence in the integrity and ability of Mr. A. A. Williams, the present Chief Engineer, we approve the nomination and recommend his re-election to said office.

Adopted by the following vote:

Yeas—Andrus, Weed, Hallock, Ripley, Thomas, Marvin, Moffett, Arnold, Stewart—9.

Nays—Holman, Mills, Wetzell, Lyon—4.

Absent—Bruce, Whalley—2.

On motion of W. H. Wetzell, copies of the above preamble and resolution were directed to be furnished the daily papers for publication, with the vote thereon.

Adjourned.

Will Discharge.—The bark Storm has made the required preparations and will commence to discharge her cargo of iron at Astoria this morning. The iron will soon be reshipped to San Francisco by steamer or sailing vessel.

Numbers.—The city presents an unusually animated appearance on the account of so many persons returning from the State Fair. The city was quite dull last week which makes the contrast more striking.

By Invitation.—A number of the members of the Legislature present in the city went over to the Insane Asylum yesterday by special invitation from the Superintendent, Dr. J. C. Hawthorne.

Finished.—First street, in East Portland, has been filled up to the required grade and leveled off. It is yet undecided whether or not the street will be planked.

Courts.—The United States Circuit Court will convene to-day, and the U. S. District Court to-morrow. The County Court will also convene this morning.

Daily Trains.—We are informed that freight trains are now running daily from Junction to this city instead of three times a week as formerly.

For Sitka.—The steamer George S. Wright, sailed last evening for Sitka and way ports, with freight and a few passengers.

Sailed.—The bark Whistler, Simpson master, sailed from San Francisco on the 2d inst. for Mojillonnes Bay, Bolivia.

Stone.—The California brought to port 150 tons of stone for the new Custom House.

Personal.

Father Buchard, who visited this city several years ago, recently delivered a lecture in San Francisco. His subject was "Woman Suffrage." The press speak in commendable terms of the address.

Amusements.

Thompson & Kingsley's great circus will perform at Oregon City this evening. The company will "spread their tent" to-morrow at the corner of Pine and Fourth streets, and give the first exhibition in the evening. They will perform for five nights in Portland.

"No gentleman knowingly trusts an unskillful tailor with the "set up" of his clothes but seeks those who are reliable in every way. In fashionableness of cut, and neatness and durability of make-up, it is well known that the work of Finbol & Roberts, corner of Washington and First streets, is unsurpassed. They are in receipt of a choice selection of fall goods, and it is therefore recommended to those wishing the best to call. Boys' clothing a specialty.

Test Have 'Em.—If you have made up your mind to array yourself in a new outfit, and are desirous of getting the latest styles, best goods and lowest prices, you cannot do better than call and select from the fresh importations which Mr. Scharf has been buying in San Francisco for the house of J. O'Neil & Co., No. 62 First street. They have, without doubt, the finest goods ever offered to the public. Gaze in the windows; go further, look inside. Comment is unnecessary.

It has surprised thousands to witness the beneficent effects which result from a use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Consumption reaches its dreaded strength through neglected colds. These colds may be completely cured by the use of this preparation, as also the many forms of bronchitis, whooping-cough, and other distressing accompaniments of consumption.

In Memoriam.

At a late meeting of the Multnomah County Medical Society, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the members of this Society have heard with heartfelt sorrow, of the decease of their late professional brother, H. A. Rodman, M. D. Ripe in years and the experience gained in a long and busy practice, he has closed an active and honorable life, rendered most eminently useful in cheerfully ministering to the relief of the sick and unfortunate.

Resolved, That in his death we feel the loss of an honorable Christian gentleman, a pleasant and unselfish associate; and we feel that we, his professional brethren, as well as the public at large, may well sorrow over the earthly extinction of a life so replete with usefulness.

Resolved, That a copy of the above resolutions be transmitted to his family, and also inserted in the daily papers. R. B. WILSON, M. D., Scollay Parker, M. D., President.
Secretary.

But if two hundred horses and eighty men are sufficient to transport us, we pledge ourselves to fill all the above stands on the above days and dates.

JOHN WILSON.

The old saying is, "What everybody says must be true," and everyone says that Beck & Waldman have the largest and best selected stock of the latest styles and patterns in gentlemen's Clothing and furnishing Goods in the city of Portland. Defend Your Health.
The fall of the leaves not only symbolizes human decay, but promotes it. In other words, the effluvia from dying and rotting vegetation is unfavorable to health. To this and other causes—especially excess of moisture in the atmosphere—may be ascribed the prevalence of acute disorders of the stomach, bowels and liver at this season. Every person of bilious habit is liable to be very bilious in the fall. Then, too, all persons whose digestion is weak and more than ordinarily dyspeptic, and individuals predisposed to colic, diarrhœa and dysentery, are particularly likely to be attacked by these complaints. The most complete defense against each and all of these distressing ailments is bodily vigor. To obtain this blessing in all its plenitude where it does not exist, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is earnestly recommended. It is the peculiar office of this preparation to reinforce and regulate the important organs which digest and temper the food, and convert it into life-sustaining blood. Bodily vigor depends upon the nourishing qualities of that fluid and the nutritiousness of the blood depends upon the functional activity and regularity which it is the special province of the Bitters to secure. Hence it is the best defence of health at this season, and indeed at all seasons. When dysentery, diarrhœa, bilious remittent and other violent affections of the bowels, become epidemic, as they often do in certain parts of the country in the fall, it will be found that persons who have been wise enough in resort to the Bitters as a preventive are almost invariably exempted from the scourge.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Subjection of Man to Conditions.

In whatever relation we view man and his actions, we almost invariably find that though we are taught that he is a free agent, nevertheless the evidence of the domination of conditions governing and controlling his actions sooner or later looms into view.

If, for example, we examine into the causes of mortality, we find that his condition or occupations exert an all-important influence on the duration of his life. If he is very poor, his chance of death is half as much as if he were rich; and as regards profession, Quetelet shows that in Germany, for twenty-four doctors that reach the age of seventy, thirty-two military men and forty-two theologians attain their three score and ten.

If we inquire into his honesty, we find that it depends on his age to a certain extent, for between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-five the tendency to theft is double what it is between the ages of thirty-five and forty. On this and other crimes education has a very important influence, as is shown in Quetelet's statistics of crime in France and England. In the former country, out of one hundred criminals, sixty-one could not read or write, twenty-seven could read imperfectly, and only twelve could read and write well. In England, thirty-six could not read at all, sixty-one could read and write imperfectly, and only three could read and write well.

Actions which appear on the surface to depend entirely on the will of the individual are also strangely influenced by apparently trivial causes. Statistics of suicide by hanging, for example, show that the maximum of such cases occurred between six and eight in the morning; the number decreased slightly till noon, and then dropped suddenly to the minimum, there being 123 cases between ten and twelve o'clock against only 32 between twelve and two o'clock. The number rose in the afternoon to 104 cases between four and six, dropping to an average of about 70 through the night, the second minimum, 45, being between two and four o'clock in the morning. How clearly the influences of the mid-day meal and mid-night sleep are marked in their elevation of the mental tone, while the depression of the morning and afternoon at the prospect of another day or night of misery, is likewise indicated by the increased number that sought relief in self-destruction.

Another instance of this influence of obscure laws on the actions of man is the statement by M. Quetelet that in Belgium, out of 10,000 marriages in each period of five years, from 1841 to 1865, six men aged from 30 to 45 married women aged sixty or more. M. Quetelet thereupon remarks:—"It is curious to see man proudly enlisting himself King of Nature, and fancying himself controlling all things by his free will, yet submitting, unknown to himself, more rigorously than any other being in creation, to the laws, to which he is under subjection. These laws are co-ordinate with such wisdom that they even escape his attention.—Scribner's.

PRESENCE OF MIND.—Self-control and presence of mind are doubtless, in some measure, natural gifts; but they may be greatly strengthened and increased by culture. Young folks may learn a valuable lesson from the heroic conduct of little Annie Lamb, a girl of twelve years. She had taken passage with her mother on the propeller Fountain City, from Chicago to Buffalo. The day after the departure of the boat the little girl, going into the kitchen, remarked that the stove smoked, to which the cook replied she was mistaken. The child had heard her mother often say that she dreaded going on a boat for fear of fire. With this in her mind, and, taking another look at the place where the smoke seemed to come from, she saw that it did not issue from the stove. Going on deck she discovered the wood-work around the smoke-stack on fire, and the flames just eating their way into the cabin. Without giving any general alarm, she went to the steward, and told him the boat was on fire. He informed the captain, who called the deck hands aft, and they extinguished the fire without one of the passengers being aware that anything of the kind had occurred. There were twenty-two ladies sitting on deck, on the bow of the boat—among them the mother of Annie—when this was going on.

After the work had been done Annie went to her mother, and said "Don't be frightened, mother; the boat has been on fire, but it is all over now."

The captain was so greatly pleased with the cool, calm and quiet manner in which the child performed her part, that he refunded the passage money of both and offered to take them back to Chicago free of charge. Had little Annie cried "Fire!" as most children and the majority of grown people would have done, a panic would doubtless have occurred among the passengers, and disastrous consequences ensued.

DECEIVING CHILDREN.—Dr. B. was called to visit a sick boy twelve years of age. As he entered the house the mother took him aside and told him she could not get her boy to take any medicine except she deceived him.

"Well, then," said Dr. B., "I shall not give him any. He is old enough to be reasoned with."

He went to the boy, and after an examination said to him:

"My little man, you are very sick, and must take some medicine. It will taste badly, and make you feel badly, for a little while, and then I expect it will make you feel better."

The doctor prepared the medicine, and the boy took it like a man, without any resistance; and he would take from his mother anything that the physician had prescribed, but would take nothing else from her. She had so often deceived him, and told him it was good, when she gave him medicines, that he would not trust to anything she said.

Honesty with children, as well as with all others, and in all circumstances, is the best policy.

DO IT NOW.—Don't live a single hour of your life without doing exactly what is to be done in it, and going straight through it, from beginning to end. Work, play, study, whatever it is—take hold at once and finish it up squarely and cleanly; and then to the next thing, without letting any moments drop out between. It is wonderful to see how many hours these prompt people contrive to make of a day; it is as if they picked up the moments that the dawdlers lost. And if ever you find yourself where you have so many thing pressing upon you that you hardly know how to begin, let me tell you a secret: take hold of the very first one comes to hand, and you will find the rest all fall into file and follow after like a company of well-drilled soldiers; and though work may be hard to meet when it charges in a squad, it is easily vanquished if you can bring it into line. You may have often seen the anecdote of the man who was asked how he had accomplished so much in his life. "My father taught me," was the reply, "when I had anything to do, to go and do it." There in the secret—the magic word now.—Exchange.

The increase in the money order business connected with the Post Office Department, during the year ending June 30, amounted to near $8,000,000. The total amount of business transacted under the system during the same time is 98,292,625, on which the government has made a clear profit of $120,000.

The burning of the Iowa elevator in Chicago some weeks ago proves to have been merely a business speculation on the part of the proprietor. He had appropriated some two hundred and fifty thousand bushels of grain left in his charge, and burned the establishment down to cover up the crime.

Nearly forty per cent. of the total deaths of all ages in the United States is found among infants under five years of age. The mortality in our great cities, however, has risen to a much higher rate, the highest being in Chicago, where it has increased from a percentage of .28 in 1843 to .62 in 1869.

The official report of the Superintendent of the English postal telegraph shows that after paying all expenses, it will yield the present year a net profit of nearly two million dollars to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The death of Rev. Manton Eastburn, Episcopal Bishop of Massachusetts, was announced recently.

POLITICAL NOTES.

A prominent politician of Cincinnati writes that Mr. Greeley's speech at the Chamber of Commerce in that city lost him 25 votes of solid men on the spot.

A prominent Greeleyite of Dubuque, Iowa, has twelve bets on the Presidential election, and, strange to say, eleven out of the twelve are in favor of Grant's re-election.

A German in Iowa says he was for Greeley at first, but he noticed that his neighbors, who used to go on sprees when the rebels whipped the Union soldiers, were all going for Greeley. He goes for Grant now.

Gen. Wm. T. Ward, a Whig member of Congress from 1851 to 1858, and one of Sherman's best Generals, will make fourteen speeches in Kentucky for Grant. He has heretofore been a Conservative.

Not only the son of Abraham Lincoln, but the two sons of Stephen A. Douglas, are Grant men. Robert M. Douglas, the ex-Senator's oldest son, is among the most active workers in Washington for Grant's re-election.

It is claimed by some strong sanguine friends of Greeley that Sumner's nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, will reduce the majority of 27,304, which was obtained over John Quincy Adams at the last election, to 27,400.

How astonishing it would have been a year ago to have read in a Democratic paper that Charles O'Conor was a "tool of the Administration," because he was advising his fellow-Democrats not to vote for Horace Greeley.

It is understood from a reliable source that Judge Pierrepont and Mr. Steadman, who went abroad in the interest of the Texas and Pacific Railroad, have returned, after having effected a loan in England upon the bonds of the road to the extent of seven million dollars.

Ben. Wood has paid $1,000 forfeit to be let off from his ten-thousand-dollar bet that Greeley would be elected. Wood is a shrewd politician, and has seen enough of the direction of that "tidal wave" to feel convinced that H. G. is not going to be the next President.

Hon. Geo. W. McLane, who was nominated as Presidential Elector in the First District of Arkansas on the Greeley and Brown ticket, has come out for Grant and Wilson, being unwilling, he says, to serve with allies who murdered his loyal friends. He predicts 5,000 majority for Grant in Arkansas.

Hon. Jacob B. Brown, a Democratic member of the Senate of Indiana, spoke at Greencastle, in that State, on the 12th, and took square ground against the Greeley national and State tickets, and declared it to be the duty of all good citizens in the present emergency to vote for Gen. Grant for President, and Gen. Tom Brown for Governor.

The Democracy are getting to blaspheme as roundly as their candidate for the Presidency, and with more excuse. Mr. Greeley swears for the love of it; the Democracy are swearing just now because they made such confounded fools of themselves as to accept Mr. Greeley as their candidate. They have the odium of his nomination, and lose more votes than they gain by it.

The Democratic leaders saw that the Democratic party in its old form and without accessions could not hope to succeed. They entered into the coalition to win the necessary accessions. But several States have held their elections, and in every one the new movement only mustered the old Democratic party and Strength. The opposition is only the Democratic party just as before, and it must, of course, fail, just as it failed before.

TWO WAYS TO BEGIN LIFE.—Years ago, in a certain populous town in the fine old Granite State, there resided two very poor boys. We will call the names of these boys William and James. One day William purchased a jews-harp from James, price eight cents, to be paid for on the following Saturday, equal to three days' credit. At the time agreed upon, James called for his pay, but an extension of the credit was asked for three days, and granted. At this latter day the money was once more called for, when the promisor told the promisee (William told James) that if he ever dared to call for that money again, he would get, instead thereof, a right sound thrashing. That debt was never paid. It was hard for James, for though a small sum, it was all that James could call his own in this "wide world," except his scanty wardrobe, and that was small enough; and whether pennies or pounds, few or many, if one loses all he has it is the same.

Years have passed, and where are those boys now? James is a respected and honorable merchant in a certain city, and is called rich, if that is an honor. And William? He is a pauper on the town. Recently they met, both, how different their circumstances. Indeed, he who knows the facts felt that an evil beginning will in bad ending, and the dishonest boy foretells the dishonest man. We could go on and tell how pleasant the pauper William feels as he walks about in his cast-off clothing, given to him as a charity, and of other points of equal interest, but there is not space. Therefore we will only stop a moment longer and address the moral to the consciences and good sense to the young, bidding that evil habits lead inevitably to evil results, and that the best joys of the evil boy turn, sooner or later, to ashes. There is but one abiding good, and that will always be found in doing only the right, in the love of man and fear of God.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the City of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872 again meets in faith appeals to its history, and announces its posit n upon the questions before the country:

1. During the eleven years of its ascendancy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of its time; has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it civilly punished no man for political offences, and has warmly welcomed all who gave their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It initiated a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar enterprises have been prosecuted and successfully completed to the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers; immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly expended. Despite the annual large reduction from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Mounting foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who either have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit in any case distinctions in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolists, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except as much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted so as to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and gratified people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of their country became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of the Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor; and the Republican party recognize the duty of adapting legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of those two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold the Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of the debt, and of the rate of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves, as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of asserting constitutional laws by the forces of removing wrongs by the interference with rights reserved by the people to either the State or National Governments.

17. It is the duty of the Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, illustrated by the long and brilliant services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.
